

Kilkeary N.S. Parental Communication Policy

“... it has always been a worthwhile practice for parents to supervise their children’s homework, but in those instances where parents actually help in their child’s individual learning programme, results seem even more encouraging.”

Parents have a huge role to play on the education of their children. They are the primary educators and they are our partners in the education of the pupils.

Parental involvement in the life of the school is encouraged in many ways:-

- Christmas Concert
- First Confession, First Holy Communion and Confirmation
- Formal parent-teacher meeting
- Matches
- Homework
- Code of Behaviour
- Book Fair
- Regular notes sent to parents
- Fund raising activities etc.

A copy of the Parental Communication Policy is available for inspection in the school.
